Julie Oswalt and the Gang | Write on Target, Inc.

“Folio Designhaus supported our business with everything from marketing brochures to elaborate historical books for our key customers and employees. In all cases I have been extremely impressed with the quality of service and end products. In fact, the book they created for us was recognized with a top award. Folio Designhaus offers the best of both worlds in today's competitive environment... the creativity and professionalism of a major marketing firm with the speed, flexibility and cost of a small business!”

Tony Russell | President | Security & Survivability | BAE Systems

“I've been working with Folio for over four years, as my primary design firm for three main reasons: they ask questions up front to figure out exactly what I need; they come up with creative solutions to impossible problems; and they always ALWAYS meet my deadlines no matter how tight they are! Their work is meticulous. While some designers tend to only pay attention to the big stuff, Folio drills down to every little detail. True professionals. My go-to design firm time-after-time.”

Laura Hensley | Communication Director | HomeOwnership of Greater Dayton

“Folio Designhaus creates beautiful, powerful results, producing effective advertising for us that begins from the most basic of ideas. They see the big picture and remain attentive to the most minute details.”
